Chief Procurement Officer (CPO) Comments:

See next page for CPO Comments, determination, signature, and date.

Approval is granted for the period 8/02/2016 to 8/02/2017 and is based on the understanding that the department is unable to determine the food requirements for its year-round field camp to Kure Atoll Wildlife Sanctuary. It is not practical to conduct a competitive procurement in the limited timeframe when personnel are selected to determine what type of food supplies are to be purchased prior to the ship's departure. This approval is for the solicitation process only, HRS Section 103D-310(c) and HAR Section 3-122-112 shall apply (i.e. vendor is required to provide proof of compliance and may use the Hawaii Compliance Express) and the award is required to be posted on the Awards Reporting System. Copies of the compliance and the awards posting are required to be documented in the procurement/contract file.

If there are any questions, please contact Kevin Takaesu at 586-0568 or kevin.s.takaesu@hawaii.gov.

2. Vendor/Contractor/Service Provider:

Times, Foodland, Safeway, Costco, Sam's Club, Kokua Country Market, Down to Earth, Whole Foods, Don Quijote, Target, Kmart, Walmart, Y. Hata & Company, Marukai Wholesale Mart, Chef Zone, Tamashiro Market, Tamura Super Market, Palama Supermarket, Sack and Save

6. Explain in detail, why it is not practical or advantageous for the department to procure by competitive means:

Kure Atoll is located 1,160 miles from Honolulu at the end of the Northwest Hawaiian Island chain. The Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR), Division of Forestry and Wildlife, Oahu Branch (DOFAW), maintains a year-round field camp consisting of staff, interns, and volunteers who perform biological research, habitat restoration and management activities on the atoll and its surrounding waters.

Field camps are deployed for 4-6 months at a time, throughout the year. Food items must be purchased in large quantities to ensure the field camp is properly supplied for the duration of camp deployments. Typical camp sizes range from 4-6 persons. Due to extreme remoteness of the camp locations, re-supply opportunities are limited. Food purchasing, packaging and storage must be done in bulk and sometimes with limited notice. All food must also be packaged, sorted and packed, which caused additional logistical obstacles.

The wide variety of food items needed is not available from a single vendor. Creating a bid list or request for quote is not practical. The retail market is fairly competitive, with very little overall variance in prices. The Kure program works with limited budget, so cost/benefit ratio is always analyzed by staff to ensure efficiency. Creating an itemized list, getting three prices, sorting through the price variability and item availability would not be an efficient means of staff time and cost savings. Food purchasing is planned to ensure needs are filled in a cost effective manner. However, at times, in store determinations must be made to select the healthiest alternative in the various product categories. Diversity of the shopping list, which varies per field camp, necessitates a wide variety of vendors.

Purchasing of supplies occurs approximately a month before deployment of re-supply ships. Space on these ships is limited; timeliness is crucial to ensure critical food needs are met and prioritized. Ship departure is not flexible, so shopping and acquiring of food items must be done in accordance with rigid ship schedules. Ability to purchase from multiple vendors allow for cost effective and flexible options.
